Canada's first national tractor plowing champion will be chosen from competing provincial champions at the Ontario Plowmen's Association International Match at Cobourg, Ont., October 6 to 9. Above, Emmanuel Hahn, the internationally-famous Canadian sculptor, who has designed many of Canada's stamps and coins, is putting the finishing touches to the clay model of the winner's trophy, the Esso Silver Plow. In addition to the trophy, the Canadian champion and the runner-up will travel each year as guests of Imperial Oil to the world plowing match where they will compete on behalf of Canada. The first world match is being held at Cobourg; the second, next year in the Republic of Ireland.

Wilf Dutil of Coleman, will serve as president of the Crows Nest Pass Retail Merchants' Association following general meeting of the organization a week ago Monday night. Mr. Dutil replaces Dick Harper, of Blairmore, president for the past two years. V. P. Carpenter of Hillcrest, was appointed to the office of vice-president, while Bill Holyk retained the job of secretary. The executive will consist of J. Allan, Jr., and Aldo Montalbetti, of Coleman; K. Thornton and H. Lord of Blairmore; W. Carpenter, of Hillcrest; Les Cousins and A. Brazzoni of Bellevue, and Stan Chambers, Burnis.

Christmas Business Hours Are Set

During the business portion of the meeting the minutes and financial statement were accepted and a motion made that 1953 dues be waived due to the low expenses that the Retail Merchants' Association had faced last year.

The matter of Christmas closing hours brought out a suggestion that stores remain open until 9 p.m. for seven days prior to Christmas. This was discussed and turned down. The merchants then agreed upon the following schedule of closing:

CLOSED — Christmas Day, Boxing Day, and Sunday.
OPEN—Monday to Thursday.
CLOSED—New Year's Day.
OPEN—Saturday, January 2.
CLOSED—Monday, January 4.

At the close of the meeting a vote of thanks was tendered Dick Harper for his work as president during the past two years.

Johnston Says Ruin Faces Coal Industry

(by Canadian Press)

C. E. Johnston, (Soc) Bow River, said the Canadian coal industry is "going to be ruined" unless something is done soon.

The government had spent $50-000,000 in the last five years to subsidize the gold industry while coal miners were being squeezed out of their jobs because there was no national coal policy.

Canada had produced 17,360,000 tons of coal last year, at the same time importing 24,176,000 tons from the United States.

Alberta coal production was estimated at 6,262,000 tons this year, but the industry in that province could produce almost 10,000,000 tons with present facilities.

If the government wanted to save the coal industry, markets must be found in central Canada. Sales of 2,000,000 more tons a year in central Canada would stabilize the industry and 4,000-600 more tons would put it back on its feet.

Mr. Johnston said it was the "height of folly" to allow the coal industry to go bankrupt.

Hillcrest Mohawk Collieries Purchase Interest In Coleman Collieries Limited. Directors And Officers Announced

Mr. F. J. Harquail, Vice-President of Hillcrest Mohawk Collieries Limited, advised today that his company had acquired the common share interests owned by The Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company of Canada Limited, in Coleman Collieries Limited, and that at a meeting of the Directors of Coleman Collieries Limited, held on the 3rd of December, 1953, the following had been appointed:

William "Sonny" Truch Receives Medal In Impressive Ceremony

William "Sonny" Truch stood before a packed auditorium Friday for the second time in a matter of months, — winning his second award for educational achievements. Sonny accepted the Governor-General's medal Friday in the same unassuming manner, and usual modesty that has won him a host of friends here in Coleman.

Sonny was presented with the award by School Inspector McKay for having the highest academic standing in the grade nine departmental examinations in the Pincher Creek Inspectorate.

In the opening ceremonies, Principal Allen remarked that this achievement is the loud echo of the work that has been done through the nine grades that Sonny has completed. The winning of the award came not as a surprise but as an agreeable surprise. Teachers in Coleman school would not have been surprised if any one of four top students won the award — grade nine students of last year were a close-knit group. William is the representative of that group. With these remarks Mr. Allen called upon Mr. McKay to make the presentation. In his remarks, Mr. McKay stated that he has an interest in the students of his inspectorate, and that it was with express pleasure to all connected with the teaching profession that these awards are presented.

The award given at this time is small in size, but big in meaning. It is awarded yearly for the best standing in grade nine and includes a lot of students in the schools of Pincher Creek and the Crows Nest Pass area. Sonny as the winner, was not only representing Coleman but representing a very large number of students.

Coleman students have reflected great credit upon their school throughout the years. In 1948 one Coleman student appeared among the first four vying for this award. In 1950 two Coleman students names appeared on the list, and in 1951, Coleman placed two on the list, one of these winning the award. Two more Coleman students made the list in 1952, while three registered in 1953, — Sonny winning the award.

"I have a special pride in Coleman school," the inspector went on. "I see here a spirit which carries the school to awards such as this. This spirit is not shown in all schools. This spirit is necessary to win."

It is not possible for an individual to win an award. It is won by the co-operation of all the elements that make a good school. The parents play a great part, and they must be proud today, and they have a right to be. The parents have much to do with the winning of an award... encouragement, help and upbringing.

Teachers throughout the school have played a part in the winning of this award; a job of this type is not done in one year alone. It is the entire process.

The community too plays an important roll. First the members of a community elect the school board, and in Coleman they have elected a good one. Some communities stand for the better things in life, others think in terms of frivolity and foolishness. I do know, from the records, that within your community and your school you must have a great many people that stand for the better things in life.

Sonny, on receiving the engraved bronze medal, gave full credit to his school-mates for providing him with high calibre competition, and expressed thanks to his parents, his teachers and to the school board.

Principal Allen closed the afternoon ceremonies asking the students assembled not to forget the events of the day, assuring them that this is one ceremony that will never tire of holding, and hoped that it would be repeated many times in the future.

Canadian Institute Mining, Metallurgy Meet Nov. 27

A dinner meeting of the Rocky Mountain branch of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy was held in the Greenhill Dining and Dance on Friday, November 27 at 6:45. Seventy-eight members and their guests were present.

Mr. W. O. Whitlacker, Managing Director of the Coal Operators Association gave a very interesting, informative and encouraging talk on the problems of the coal industry with some proposed solutions to the problems.

Messrs. J. P. Costello, A. W. Forrester, and Arnold McGrath, of the Costello Equipment Company of Calgary, showed pictures and gave an interesting talk on the use of Letourneau earth moving equipment.

During the evening the guests were treated to songs by Mr. Steve Wayrean and trumpet and saxophone solos by William Goodwin, Bert Bond presiding at the piano.

Following the dinner meeting the annual meeting was held with members only. The following slate of officers was elected:

Chairman, H. Millar, Coleman; secretary-treasurer, W. Goodwin, Coleman; executive, H. Millar, W. Goodwin, J. Lattier, W. Bird, H. H. Congdon.

The membership committee reported that six applications had been sent in recently.

The new secretary was instructed to reply to a letter which Mr. Congdon had received from Mr. H. E. Miard, of Fernie. Mr. Miard has been a true and hard working member of the Institute for many years, and the secretary is to convey the sincere regrets for his ill health and best wishes for a speedy recovery.

Grands Will Play In A. B. C. League

Coleman Grands will play in the ABC League again this year according to an announcement made last week-end. Members of the league will be the same as last year with the exception of Creston. The new Bellevue entry will replace the western town.

A meeting of the ABC League was held at the York Hotel, Cranbrook on Sunday, November 22, with delegates from Cranbrook, Kimberley, Michel-Natal, Coleman and Bellevue present. "Butch" Zak B.C.A.H.A., representative for the East Kootenay, was officially representing his branch of the C.A.H.A. The Fernie Club was unrepresented, but later telephoned that they would like to participate in the league. The Creston Club, by correspondence, requested withdrawing from the league, but requested exhibition matches in order to stimulate interest in that center.

Les DeArmond, of Cranbrook, was re-elected as president of the league and will appoint his secretary-treasurer at a later date. Each club was asked to appoint a vice-president to the league executive. Upon the recommendation of Mr. Zak, they were to hold executive office as follows:

First vice-president, Coleman;

Second vice-president, Fernie; Third vice-president, Bellevue; Fourth vice-president, Kimberley; Fifth vice-president, Michel-Natal.

It was agreed that each vice-president be a member of the club executive.

It was moved by Ray Spillers, of Coleman that the ABC League of 1953-54 be composed of teams from Bellevue, Coleman, Michel-Natal, Fernie, Cranbrook and Kimberley.

The league schedule will consist of home and home games providing 10 league matches for each team. Ray Spillers was appointed chairman of a schedule committee to be chosen by him. It was proposed that the names of referees be submitted for the next meeting. In regard to player registration it was decided to follow C.A.H.A. rules, but to send the secretary a complete list of player try-outs before the league opens.

The next meeting will be held in Fernie on Sunday December 6 at 2:00 p.m.

Bill Monell, vice-president and R. Spillers, secretary-treasurer, represented the Coleman club at the meeting.

Local Girl Wins Cash Award From University

The latest to win an award is Miss Dolores McLean.

On December 2 Miss McLean received an honors prize of $25 from the University of Alberta for First Class Honors standing in her course of B. Sc. Nursing.

Dolores is the daughter of Mrs. Annie McLean of Coleman.

A consistent honor student, Dolores is an accomplished pianist, and has always had her career set. During her school years in Coleman she displayed the fact that she knew what she wanted and meant to achieve the result.

Trucker Passes

A preliminary inquest was held to view and re-release the body Monday night under the direction of Dr. Lieemer, coroner. The body was identified by Terence Cardle, of Bellevue and it was decided to adjourn the inquest until 7 p.m. Wed. Dec. 16, in the Coleman Town Hall. H. Zak Jr. served as foreman of jury comprised of H. Holmes, B. Bell, F. Krish, M. Taje, and John Szulc.

Born at Bassano in July of 1928, deceased attended school at Majorville and had been employed at Yellowknife and various points in Alberta prior to coming to Coleman four years ago. He had been an employee of Coleman Collieries for the past four years and serving on the last job for one week.

Johnstone Lake Officially Changed To Old Wives Lake

Name of Old Wives Lake Perpetuates Indian Incident When Old Cree Mothers Sacrificed Themselves for Their Children

REGINA.—It was announced recently by Hon. J. H. Brocks, Saskatchewan minister of natural resources, that the name of Johnstone lake was officially changed to Old Wives lake by the Canadian Board on Geographical Names of Ottawa on November 10, 1933.

The change of the name is the result of the efforts for many years by many residents of the area, and rural municipalities in the vicinity of Johnstone lake. The late Z. M. Hamilton of Regina was both a pioneer and writer of early Saskatchewan history and was among the first to propose the change of the name to Old Wives lake.

The name Old Wives lake perpetuates an Indian incident where Cree mothers voluntarily sacrificed themselves so that their children might escape the wrath of the Blackfoot Indians and return to their ancestral grounds and perpetuate the tribe.

Since the Indians had no written history, it is difficult to check the authenticity of the story, but officials of the federal Indian Affairs branch and others feel the event is in its essential details did occur.

The story handed down from father to son for considerably more than one hundred years concerns a band of Cree Indians from the Qu'Appelle valley who journeyed west of Moose Jaw Creek hunting for buffalo so a store of meat would be available for the lean months ahead. Apparently a prairie fire in the Qu'Appelle area had caused the buffalo herds to wander south-westerly towards better pasture. The Indian band found a herd of buffalo in the vicinity of Lake Johnstone which were slaughtered and meat prepared. As was customary the work of skinning, cutting and drying of the meat and preparing the hides was left to the women and youths in the party of which there were a considerable number.

The tribe had entered into the open prairie and in the hunting grounds of the Blackfoot Indians with considerable anxiety, but scouts had reported the area free of the enemy. It was decided to kill the buffalo and provide a meat store for the months ahead and to hurry back to their home grounds.

The band burdened with their meat supply and women and children were returning home when a Blackfoot scout and a small war party were observed in the afternoon. In the attack that followed, the small party of Blackfoot were driven off, but it was realized that the band was in mortal danger when the remainder of the Blackfoot war party would arrive. The Cree, burdened with woman and children would obviously be no match against the large well mounted Blackfoot war party armed with rifles obtained from American frontier posts in Missouri far superior to the Cree's flintlock muskets supplied by the Hudson's Bay Company.

It is reported that the older women spoke to the Chief as follows:

"We are old, no longer fitted to be mothers of men. Let a camp be made here. We will make little fires of buffalo chips. When night has come we will tend them and then you and the hunters, boys and young women will move silently away. The Blackfoot will see the little fires and not know that you have gone; like the wolves, they hunt at dawn, and all the trophies they will get will be the scalps of old women."

And so it was. The Blackfoot scouts watching from distant buttes, saw the camp fires and were satisfied that no escape was intended. At dawn the small party of women were massacred, but the main party reached the Qu'Appelle Valley in safety.

The lake was therefore called Old Women's Lake by the Indians. The early ranchers and homesteaders also commonly referred to the lake as Old Wives lake.

About the middle of the last century Sir Frederick Johnstone visited the area during a buffalo hunting trip and as a compliment to the distinguished visitor the lake was officially called Johnstone lake, and was so shown on maps of the Northwest Territories and in subsequent maps of Saskatchewan.

As a matter of sentiment and in preservation of the Saskatchewan legend commemorating the mothers' sacrifice for their children a number of individuals sought to make the change, despite the natural tendency to preserve a name that has been established on maps for over 75 years. Among those who advocated the restoration of its original name were Z. M. Larocque, of Lebret, former secretary of the Metis Society, Dan Kennedy of the Assiniboine Reserve, R. P. B. Ostrander, Indian Affairs Branch and Fred McGuinness, executive director of the Golden Jubilee committee.

The move was also supported by the Rural Municipality of Rodgers and Lake Johnstone, as well as by a number of older settlers and ranchers of the area who were familiar with the incident.

Mrs. Anne W. Cusick of Colerue was largely instrumental in soliciting popular support for the change. It is in keeping with the sentiment of the people of the province who opposed the retention of a name honoring an early tourist who had little to do with this country. Mrs. Cusick and her associates feel the name of Old Wives lake appearing on future maps of Saskatchewan will preserve for all time an unique incident showing mothers' sacrifice for their children.

Sight White Moose

GORDONDALE, Alta. —Sighting of a white moose three times on his trap line in this district has been reported by Norman Day.

Day says that on one occasion he worked his way to within forty yards of the animal. He says it is a three- or four-year-old cow.

The Gordondale resident recalls that a Metis reported sighting an animal of similar color north of Fort Vermilion in 1928.

Marriages in Canada in the first nine months of 1933 totalled 94,322 as compared with 93,208 and 94,095, respectively, in the corresponding periods of 1932 and 1931.

Funny and Otherwise

A parson had occasion to reprove a small boy for swearing. "If you feel you must say something, just say 'Bother!'" he said. "Your father doesn't swear, does he?"

"Oh, no, sir."

"Well, then, if he were working in the garden and suddenly stepped backwards on a rake which flew up and hit him on the head from behind, what would he say?"

"He'd say, 'You're back early, dear!'"

A husband and wife could not speak to each other except in the deaf and dumb language. One night when the husband came home rather late the wife let him have her raging anger, her fingers flying a mile a minute.

Just as he raised his hands to answer her, she turned out the light.

"Well," said father to little Tommy, "how did you like the circus?"

"It was good," Tommy replied, "but I didn't think much of the man who threw knives at the woman."

"Why?"

"Tell me what you eat and I'll tell you what you are," said a lunch-counter philosopher. Whereupon a meek little man, sitting a few stools away, called to the waitress: "Cancel my order for shrimp salad, please."

The sergeant spoke his piece about the shoes the recruit wore on parade. The latter explained that he had worn them in private life.

"So what?" snapped the sergeant. "Did you have a top hat when you were a civilian, too?"

"Why, yes."

"Then why don't you wear that here?"

"Don't be silly," snapped the recruit. "Who ever heard of wearing a top hat with brown shoes?"

"Is it true that Joan is going to sue Reggie for breach of promise?"

"She was going to, but she found it wouldn't be worth while."

"No letters, I suppose?"

"It wasn't that. No money. She was on the point of filing a suit when she heard about Reggie pawning one."

"Women are queer! See that one over there with the pram?"

"Yes."

"Well, I was attracted by the way she was cuddling her baby. I remarked on what a grand mother she was. She glared at me, then smacked my face."

"Ah, you talk too fast."

"The vision from Hollywood snaked her sinuous way along the platform."

Mrs. Smith eyed her husband sharply and said: "John! You never look at me like that."

"You never look like that!"

After being dead for many years an old man decided to buy an invisible hearing aid. A week or so later he took it back for a minor adjustment. He was asked how it suited him.

"Fine," he replied. "I can hear conversation perfectly now."

"Your relations must be pleased," commented the assistant.

"Oh, I haven't told them. I sit around just as I always did, only now I can hear what they say. I've changed my will three times already."

"It's awfully late!" he remarked to his friend after a long session at the club. "What will you say to your wife?"

"Oh, not much, you know," was the reply. "Good morning, dear, or something of that sort. She'll say the rest."

Alberta To Extend Driver's Test Program

The Alberta government's driver testing program, in effect at Calgary and Edmonton since last July, will be extended to Lethbridge, Red Deer and Medicine Hat beginning December 1.

From December 1 on, all persons living in these cities who apply for their first driver's licence will have to take the driver's test. The test consists of a written examination, examination of the applicant's vision and depth perception ability, and a short road test.

Driver examiners will be available to test new drivers at Lethbridge on Tuesdays, at Medicine Hat on Wednesday afternoons and Thursday mornings, and at Red Deer on Wednesdays. Applications for tests should be made at the local Motor Vehicles Branch at Lethbridge and Medicine Hat and at the driver's licence issuer at Red Deer.

This Is An Unusual Skunk

PRINCE OF WALES, Sask. —Tom Martin shot a skunk in his chicken house recently, which proved to be something very unusual. Instead of the skunk being black and white, it was a sorrel color with the usual white stripes. Another oddity—there was no smell. The country seems to be alive with skunks this fall, and I'm sure it would please farmers if they were all like this one.

The skunk was given to George Hoey, taxidermist at Swift Current, who will add the skunk to his collection of animals.

In normal times, most of the world's supply of mercury is supplied by Italy and Spain.

Guide Wins Hand-To-Claw Battle With A Giant Grizzly

FORT ST. JOHN, B.C. —A veteran British Columbia big game guide who survived a hand-to-claw battle with a giant grizzly bear, but only because his opponent was overweighed.

Leash Callison told his story here after being treated in hospital at Dawson Creek, B.C., for more than 20 wounds from the grizzly's teeth.

He said he was spying out game for a group of United States sportsmen when he encountered a female grizzly and one cub, far back from his base camp.

Unarmed, the guide attempted to frighten the bear by shouting. The animal continued to advance toward him and he hit it with a rock.

Callison and the bear slid down the steep side of the mountain, with the cub rolling behind. The grizzly could not get footing, but chewed Callison's hand and bit him on his legs.

Finally the combatants tumbled over a cliff and landed together. The grizzly could not get footing, but chewed Callison's hand and bit him on his legs.

"That bear carried too much lead," Callison said. "If she had been on a diet, I wouldn't be here to tell the story."

Alta. Student Wins Eaton Scholarship

TORONTO. —Bruce E. McDonald of Manville, Alta., is the winner of the Eaton agricultural scholarship.

McDonald, 20, will enrol next fall in a degree course in agriculture at the University of Alberta. The scholarship pays for tuition and lodging during the four-year course.

Mrs. John David Eaton, wife of the president of the T. Eaton Company, presented the scholarship scroll in a ceremony at the horse show held here recently.

Early Season Woes

THE symptoms of fatigue that usually occur at the start of a new season are, in fact, a warning of the trouble ahead. These symptoms are, in fact, a warning of the trouble ahead. These symptoms are, in fact, a warning of the trouble ahead.

The development of fatigue is nearly always the cause. Nausea can often be fixed up quickly by giving fifteen drops of oil of peppermint or aromatic spirits of ammonia in half a glass of water. Stitches will often disappear if the athlete perseveres in the effort. Stretching, bending and twisting the part of the body in which there is a stitch is also helpful. Light massage and the application of alternate hot and cold applications to the back of the head and neck will often hasten the recovery from a pressure headache, although they will usually clear up quite quickly on their own. Muscle cramps are usually caused when the athlete uses up the water supply of his body and his store of salts and minerals is depleted. Sufficient water and salt attention to the diet will avoid this condition. These symptoms are all normal and to be expected from time to time. The only real harm they do is to the player's mental attitude. Many of these symptoms indicate just the beginning of fatigue. Usually if the athlete has each symptom explained to him he will not unconsciously fear them. He should also be taught to work through them.

Hill Running Pays Off

If you are going to be running in some cross country events this fall, make sure you get in plenty of hill running in your training. One of the most difficult things a distance runner can do is maintain the same pace while driving up a hill. The athlete who gets in a lot of hill running in his training will have a tremendous advantage over his competitors. The legs are under a great deal of strain when the athlete is going up a hill and if he isn't conditioned to it he will lose much valuable ground to his better conditioned opponents.

How Fat Is Too Fat?

"Too fat" is when you can find any fat at all on your body. When you can pinch it up somewhere on your body between your fingers. You need some fat in your body but not enough that it congregates on your body so that it is noticeable by look or feel. Incidentally, this applies to everyone, athlete or not, who is interested in maximum fitness and sustaining their health and long life. Don't be content to say, "I'm only a little too fat" or "I'm hardly fat at all". Instead, be content only when you can say, "I'm lean as can be all over".

Have you just become interested in a sport? Do you want to know how to go about learning to play that sport? ## On The Side By E. V. Durling

Absence—Good or Bad
Does absence make the heart grow fonder? Or is it a case of out of sight, out of mind. Rochefort said: "Absence diminishes little passions and increases great ones, just as the wind blows out a candle and fans a fire." Robert Louis Stevenson once observed that shop captains make good husbands because "absence makes love bright and delicate." Anyway, I was interested in noting that Capt. William Kuhne, merchant marine skipper, recently stated that in thirty-nine years of marriage he had been away from home an average of two hundred and twenty-five days a year.

No Patent On This Technique
In Siam they really believe in astrology. No Siamese couple would think of marrying until they have had their horoscopes furnished by an astrologer to determine whether or not they are compatible. How this affects the Siamese divorce rate I cannot say. But I am trying to check.

As Good a Way as Any
Gemini (May 20-June 21) Women are the best husband handlers in the Zodiac. They really know how to train a spouse and keep him in line. For example, when a Gemini woman quarrels with her husband she doesn't threaten to go home to mother. She threatens to invite her mother for a visit. That usually stops the husband cold. Or so say the star-gazers.

Community of Ailments
Today I met a friend who has a cocker spaniel who suffers with asthma. It is interesting to note that dogs suffer from so many of the diseases of humans. Same is true of horses. I never like to see a thoroughbred referred to as having "quilt." The horse may have been suffering from some ailment. The great British thoroughbred humorist was styled a "quilter." Then humorist won the Derby and shortly after dropped dead. It was then found he had only one good lung. His courage and one good lung carried him to victory over the trying Derby course, but the effort was too much.

Getting a Start in Business
Men who want to go into business for themselves frequently state they are prevented from so doing by lack of capital. I could name a number of highly successful business enterprises that were started with a capital of less than five hundred dollars. I know of a man who started a shop devoted exclusively to the sale of women's stockings with a capital of one hundred dollars. That man is now a multi-millionaire, owner of a huge chain store system retailing all types of feminine attire.

More Attraction in Oak
What type of trees, if any, are near your house? Do you know some trees are more likely to be struck by lightning than others? Oak is first in this respect. Then in the order named, elm, ash, poplar and pine.

Boon to Whom
A designing genius has originated an "all-in-one" undergarment that makes it possible for a female to get dressed in two moves, plus putting on shoes and stockings. This should speed up feminine dressing but it won't. Husbands will have to wait just as long. The time saved in putting clothes on will be used to perfecting the makeup. According to the Husbands' Protective Association, the time allowed for dressing a wife should be from five to 10 minutes for ordinary occasions such as going to a movie, to play bridge, etc. For parties, the maximum should be 30 minutes.

Sportsmen Urged Not To Use Carp Bait

PRINCE ALBERT—Saskatchewan Fisheries Director A. H. MacDonald issued an urgent appeal to sports fishermen not to use carp as live bait in any of the province's sport fishing waters.

This appeal came hard on the heels of a discovery, made earlier this month, that carp has entered the province. A number of these fish were seen in the overflow waters of the Assiniboine river, near Kamiskic.

Carp is classed as a "rough" fish, which could pose a serious threat to Saskatchewan's fisheries. Where it has become established in Eastern Canada and the United States, carp has displaced other fish, becoming the dominant species.

Were this fish to gain a foothold in Saskatchewan waters, it could bring about a sharp reduction in game species like great northern pike and pickerel, Mr. MacDonald said, adding that carp is a hardy fish, able to thrive under conditions which would prove fatal for most other species.

He pointed out that carp is the only species of the minnow family growing to any appreciable size (they reach 50 pounds in the U.S.). Carp can be identified, first, from its close resemblance to buffalo fish and second, from the barbels (whisker-like appendages) which project downward from each side of the upper jaw. Carp found in the Assiniboine, and definitely identified by P. H. Edwards, fisheries officer, were small, indicating that they may have hatched from this year's spawn. Mr. MacDonald believes the carp gradually worked up the Assiniboine from Lake Winnipeg, spawning at or near the point where this river originates southwest of Hudson Bay.

He said carp were introduced in North America about 100 years ago. The species, which spread northward into Canada and westward in the United States was first noted in Manitoba in 1938, appearing in the Red River, north of Winnipeg. Since then, carp has become common in the southern part of Lake Winnipeg.

The fish grows to about 20 pounds in Canada. Not a predator, it roots among aquatic plants. This causes the water to become turbid, a highly detrimental factor to valuable game fish. Rapid reproducers, carp can quickly

WEEKLY BIBLE COMMENT

PSALMISTS, PROPHETS
SAW GOD IN NATURE

One cannot read the story of Jesus in the Gospel without realizing now essentially the divine ministry was of earth, as well as of heaven.

It was not in classrooms, nor even in synagogues or temples, that the most distinctive teachings of Jesus were given. It was in the open close to nature.

This was as it should have been in that time in the genial, outdoor atmosphere of that little land of Palestine.

It was typical of the religion in which Jesus had been brought up, and of the Scriptures that He knew so well. To the Hebrew writers the heavens declared the glory of God, and the firmament showed His handiwork.

Psalm 19 spoke of a language of nature, unspoken, without words, but that nevertheless was heard through all the earth, as day unto day uttered speech and night unto night showed knowledge.

Two things were very real to the Psalmists and Prophets. One was the law of God and His providence in nature, the universe a manifestation of law in order.

The other was the law of God in the heart, the assurance of right and wrong in life and conduct, and of man's highest attainment only when he lived in accordance with God's law of righteousness.

A superficial observer might say that ours is an age of the out-of-doors, full of travel, excursions, play, picnics and loafing. But how much of religion is there in it all?

It must be evident to any careful observer that the general public has stayed far from the essential Hebrew and Christian view of God and nature.

It is not the religion of the out-of-doors, but the religion of it, that mostly characterizes our modern way.

How much in this, as in other things, we need to learn from those who found a joy in God and a pleasure in His world, that few attain today!

THERE COMES A DAY

There comes a day when the house is quiet, with only grown-ups to come and go. No lively rumors wafting the sturdy walls; no restless footsteps clatter to and fro. No peals of laughter float down the stairway, nor dancing feet heard on the front room floor. The house is not filled with raucous music, and there are no young friends waiting at the door.

There comes a day when all is so different; a day when young folks no longer come in at the last minute demanding supper, or racing off to another companion's home. This old house which sheltered once so many, which opened wide its arms to embrace silent, yet so full of echoes you can almost hear youth's footsteps fall.

A DOG was crossing a plank bridge over a stream with a piece of meat in his mouth, when he happened to see his own reflection in the water. He thought it was another dog with a piece of meat twice as big; so he let go his own, and flew at the other dog to get the larger piece. But, of course, all that happened was that he got neither: for one was only a shadow, and the other was carried away by the current.

Did You Know That

—Coleman was the third school in the Dominion of Canada to have motion pictures? This was in the year 1932, and they were shown in Mr. Mascherin's present class room, at that time used as an auditorium. This was also the year that folk dancing under the direction of Mr. Hoyle, and tumbling under Mr. Spillers' guidance were introduced to the school.

—The first Coleman high school executive was formed in 1937, the president being James Kilgannon and the vice-president being Ray Spillers. The motto "to the purpose to the point" along with the Coleman high school crest was given to the school by Mr. Hoyle at that time.

—The high school was formed with the following persons forming the executive—

President, Joe Kryczka.
 Vice-president, Audrey Erickson.
 Secretary, Grace Lukaicik.
 Treasurer, Ralph Ryznar.

The junior high school student body is now in its fifth year. Their crest was designed by Joe Kryczka.

—Coleman at one time had an outstanding track team under the leadership of Mr. Spillers. This team copped all honors from the years 1937 to 1940 mainly because of such outstanding athletes as John Moore, Nick Polski, Isabel McDonald, Milan Kovac, Bob Emerson, Helen Guimond, Frank Gihirny, Beverley Slater, Leon Henriet, Alfred Jones, Jimmy Slugs, Lena Snider, OIwen Brown, Ron Collings and Harry Thomas, to mention a few.

—Wesley Watts, now a medical supervisor of East Kootenay, introduced soccer, basketball and track to the school. He was Coleman's representative on a committee to organize a Crow's Nest Pass interscholastic track meet. This was in 1925.

—One of Coleman's former students, Herman Trelle, was winner of numerous grain titles. He farmed at Wembley in the Peace River district. He attended school in Coleman around the year 1905.

—Coleman at one time had a high school symphony orchestra, under the direction of Miss May Powell, now residing in Calgary. The orchestra was made up of about 20 instruments.

—First aid teams were first organized in 1916 for international team competition. Coleman was well represented for the teams brought home such trophies as the Montclair, the Codere, the provincial shield, the McGillivray Cup and numerous others.

—Father McCormick was well known in the sports for his contribution to the team in Coleman. He coached teams in hockey and in baseball and led his teams to victory in almost every game they played.

—The high school put on four operettas. These were 1) Hilda of Holland; 2) The Gypsy Troubadour; 3) Princess Judo; 4) The Forest Prince.

Charles Baker on Starclift. The Canadians not only took the event but in doing so won the International low score competition challenge trophy based on three separate events.

SEEN FOR FIRST TIME—Research virologist Dr. R. A. Taylor, of Detroit, peers into his electronic microscope at a piece of tissue culture. With this machine, Dr. Taylor for the first time has been able to photograph isolated polio virus, magnifying the virus more than 77,000 times.

SMOKE?—Where there's smoke there may be monkey business backstage at the Medrano Circus in Paris, France. The simian cigarette fiend is Masquie, star of the show, which features a troupe of trained monkeys.

NATO ON THE GO—The story of NATO—how it began and what it means—is told in words and pictures assembled in these vans touring member countries. Designed to help citizens understand the Atlantic Pact Organization, the travelling show is pictured above at its first stop in Paris.

WHAT MAKES DOGGIE RUN?—That's what little Judy Postman is learning as Harry Miller explains to her some of the features of "Vesta", the world's first transparent dog. Miller, director of the Gaines Dog Research Center of New York, which developed the plastic model, is helped in his lecture by Vesta, who was equipped by Cleveland, Ohio, electronics experts with an intricate sound system which enables her to "talk" about herself for several minutes, each of her organs lighting up as it is mentioned. Constructed by Deutsche Gesundheits Museum in Cologne, Germany, Vesta will soon tour many leading cities in the U.S. Every detail of her body, including internal organs and muscular system, is faithfully reproduced in plastic. Modeled after a female Great Dane, Vesta is life-sized, being 5½ feet long and 3½ feet high.

KISS ME, DEER! Shown above is a pet deer in a sentimental mood with George Shaw of Rosetown, Sask. The deer has adopted the Norn Hopkins' where this picture was taken on their farm just a few miles north of Eagle Creek. The animal was struck by a car a few months ago and suffered a broken hind leg. While convalescing it was fed by most of the farmhands in that district and now seems to have taken permanent residence with the Hopkins'. An amazing sight is to see the farm dog and the deer rubbing noses!

ON A "BENDER"—This may look like a back-breaking trick, but pretty Maribeth Old seems to enjoy it. The 22-year-old dancer with the flexible form was photographed in above pose during a musical presentation in Paris, France.

PRAIRIE HISTORY—A Saskatchewan painting "Prairie History", by Kenneth Lochhead, Director of the School of Art, Regina College, has been purchased for the 1954 Government Insurance Office calendar. Leonard James, Director of Public Relations for the office announced. Mr. James said in his statement that it has been the policy of the office for several years to use color photographs of typical Saskatchewan scenes on the calendar. This year it was decided to encourage the growing number of Saskatchewan artists by buying a painting for the 1954 calendar, which will have a world wide distribution. The artist, Kenneth Lochhead, has been director of the Art School for the past three years and during that time has produced a series of paintings depicting Saskatchewan life. Several of these were shown in a one man show at Regina College last year. A similar exhibition of his work opened at the Robertson Art Galleries in Ottawa on October 20.

TEMPLE IN THE ROCKS—Pictured above is one of the 32 fabulous Cave Temples of Ellora, India, which were cut from the solid-rock hillside more than 2,000 years ago. Reflecting the three distinct religious periods of Indian history—the Buddhist, Brahman and Jain—the temples are covered with mythological and historical figures, and some have "stupas", or shrines, within them. These rock structures have been partially restored to preserve them.

FROG SURPLUS

CLUNY, Alta.—Frogs have been clogging an electric pump and pipes which supply water to residents here. The frogs are sucked into the machine along with water from a well, and on some days they have forced a complete stoppage of the machine.

WHOPPING PARSNIPS

WADENA, Sask.—Phillip Vellacott may not have grown parsnips larger in circumference than some of the neighbors, but he took honors for the longest. He grew one parsnip measuring 32 inches in length.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY —

My Pals, The Police

"You can't be too friendly with the police."

By Stanley Derricourt

"I've always believed in being friendly with the police," said the man in the smoking car. "Always?" I asked. "Well, nearly always," he said. "I wasn't sure I agreed. I was so."

"Ah," he said. "You would if you'd my experience."

"How come?" I asked.

"I was living in a flat," he explained. "On the ground floor. Only trouble was that I couldn't lock the door. What's more, I didn't trust the people upstairs. No special reason, of course. You know how it is."

"Yes," I said. "I know."

"O.K.," he went on. "Well every night about nine, the cop on our beat used to meet the sergeant at the corner. More often than not, he'd be late."

"Who," I asked. "The cop?"

"No, the sergeant. So I took to popping out for a chat to fill the time. Get it? I while away his time. . . he watches my flat."

"Good idea," I said.

"Yes, that's what I thought."

These days most people work under pressure, worry more, sleep less. This strain on body and brain makes physical fitness easier to lose—harder to regain. Today's tense living, lowered resistance, overwork, worry—any of these may affect normal kidney action. When kidneys get out of order, excess acids and wastes remain in the system. Then backache, disturbed rest, that "fired-up" heavy-headed feeling often follow. That's the time to take Dadd's Kidney Pills. Dadd's stimulates the kidneys to normal action. Then you feel better—sleep better—work better. Ask for Dadd's Kidney Pills at any drug counter.

Where NHL Players Hail From — Many From Prairies

While some National Hockey League players come from big Canadian cities like Montreal, Toronto and Winnipeg, there are many who were born and raised in tiny hamlets that would never be known nationally if it wasn't for their hockey playing expatriates.

Did you ever hear of Lac a la Tortue, Que.? Chances are you haven't. Well, that's where Marcel Pronovost, Detroit's rushing defenceman was born. Bet you never heard of Star City, Sask., either? That's the birthplace of Toronto's Bob Solinger. And of course we mustn't forget Forks of Credit, Ont., home of Aldo Goudin of the New York Rangers.

Frank Martin, rookie Boston defenceman, hails from Cayuga, Ont., while George Armstrong, the Indian who plays forward for Toronto, is a product of Sioux, Ont. Vanguard, a tiny Saskatchewan town with not much more than a grain elevator or two and a general store, is proud of Chicago's angular goaltender. For Vanguard is the birthplace of Al Rollins. Another place in Saskatchewan we wager you've never visited is Seelye. Ask anyone from Seelye who they think is the best player in the NHL? Ninety-nine chances out of a hundred they'll answer, "Bert Olmstead." Olmstead, naturally, is a hometown product.

No one put Delsie, Sask., on the map but the Bentley brothers. Not only were Doug and Max born in the small Saskatchewan town but they still make their home there as do the rest of the hockey playing Bentley clan. If you don't come from Manitoba chances are you've never heard of Baidou. But it's this thriving little Manitoba town that contributed Tommy Johnson to the National Hockey League. Tough Tony Leswick comes from a place in Saskatchewan called Humboldt. He might be called the "Humboldt Hammer."

Such established and well known NHL luminaries as Gordie Howe, Elmer Lach and Ted Kennedy were born in places that would never be known outside their own province if it wasn't for the hockey exploits of its citizens. Howe was born in Floral, Sask., the first grain elevator outside the city limits of Saskatoon. Lach was born and raised in Nokomis, Sask., while Kennedy started out in life at Humboldt, Ont.

Veteran Leo Reiss of New York Rangers comes from Stoney Creek, Ont., while Dean Prentice of New York and Gordie Hannigan of Toronto are graduates of Schumacher, Ont. Doug Holmes, 19-year-old Boston forward, hails from Capreol, a tiny CNR railroad town in northern Ontario. Floyd Curry of Canadians comes from a town similar to Capreol in northern Ontario but on the CPR line. Curry comes from Chapleau, Ont. Kincardine, Ont. sounds like a lovely place. That's the birthplace of the National Hockey League's only brother combination, the Wilsons, Johnny of Detroit and Larry of Chicago. Glen Skov of Detroit was born in Wheatley, Ont., and Ted Sison of the Leafs is a native of Vinton, Que. Another Toronto player, Bob Hassard, hails from Lloydminster, Sask. Lloydminster is on the Saskatchewan-Alberta border, with one half of the town in Saskatchewan and the other half in Alberta.

Fern Flaman is from Dysart, Sask. Leo LaBine the "Hallebury Hurricane" is from Hallebury, Ont. Youthful Eric Nesterenko of the Leafs was born in a most northerly Manitoba community called Flin Flon. Paul Meger of Canadians comes from Watrous, Sask., Tim Horton of Toronto is a Cochrane, Ont., native, while Don Raleigh, Rangers and Bob Bailey, Toronto, are from Kenora, Ont.

The younger generation in small rural areas should be heartened by this information as it proves that you don't have to come from a big flourishing city to play in the National Hockey League.

Children Aid Parents During Immigration

EDMONTON.—Immigrant children are showing their parents how to make friends in Canada, says a visiting authority from The Netherlands.

Mrs. H. M. Evers, of The Hague, on a Canadian tour, found that the children of Dutch families were the first to make friends. They became chummy with Canadian kiddies "the first day they arrive as they have a way all their own of understanding each other immediately."

As the only woman member of the advisory committee to The Netherlands Immigration Service, Mrs. Evers is visiting Canada to study the circumstances of Dutch families who came to this country to live.

Besides reporting her findings to the Immigration Board on her return, she will also prepare other Dutch families for their journey to Canada.

July Top Month For Marriages

There were 17,602 marriages in Canada during July this year compared to 15,601 in September, 14,048 in August and 11,873 in June, the leading four of the first nine months. Both in 1962 and 1961 there were more marriages in July than in any other month. 3065

Duke Of Edinburgh Invited To Visit Northern Manitoba

The Duke of Edinburgh has been invited by Premier Douglas L. Campbell to spend three or four days in Northern Manitoba in 1964 when he comes to Canada to open the British Empire Games.

In a personal letter to the Duke, the premier wrote:

"I have the honor to inform Your Royal Highness that in common with Canadians everywhere, the people of Manitoba were delighted to learn that Your Royal Highness intends to visit Canada next year. We have very happy recollections of the visit of Her Majesty the Queen and yourself to Manitoba in 1951, and have looked forward to the time when it would be possible for Her Majesty or yourself to return and see more of this province."

"I am writing at this time to extend to you on behalf of the people of Manitoba an invitation to include in your itinerary, a three or four day visit to Northern Manitoba. This is one of the most interesting regions in Canada from a historical point of view, and is the scene of a number of important developments at the present time. A trip to the region could include visits to Flin Flon, The Pas, Lynn Lake, Swan River, Dauphin, Riding Mountain National Park and adjoining areas, which would provide you with an excellent opportunity to see some of the farming and mining developments of the province and further acquaint you with the great possibilities of this part of our province. At Churchill you would see the grain elevators and port facilities at Canada's only inland sea port. After viewing these modern developments I know you would be interested in looking over the ruins of the famous old Fort Prince of Wales, begun by the British during the year 1723 and later lost to the French without a shot being fired by its cannon. If time permitted, you might also take some time to do a bit of brook fishing in the God's river area which is famous for its trophy-sized brook trout and annually attracts ardent anglers from all over this continent.

"I appreciate that Your Royal Highness's time in Canada will be limited, but sincerely urge that you try to arrange your itinerary so as to allow several days in Manitoba."

The John Howard Society of Canada

An organization which helps rehabilitate men being released from prison with a sincere desire to go straight, but find the "straight and narrow" too tough and rocky to be travelled alone. What more practical Christian work than to extend to these fellows, many of them just young boys, a 'helping hand and not a hand-out'?

The John Howard Society is a non-profit, non-sectarian prisoners' aid and private welfare agency.

Its staff of trained social workers deals every day with the cases of men and boys who do not ask to be 'carried along' but for a friendly smile and helping hand when the going is hard.

It depends for funds upon voluntary contributions by private citizens, groups or agencies throughout the Dominion and this province.

It assists men released from prison by providing them with temporary financial aid and shelter, employment placement, and friendly counsel, and case work service. It provides service to the men in prison and their families. It supports progressive penal legislation. And promotes community tolerance toward the ex-prisoner and his needs.

The average cost per man for one year in jail is $1,000.—While one year of John Howard service is $10. In helping with this good work the public is reclaiming Alberta's greatest asset—our people.

How often this tragic story is told in the list of cases in the Society records.—Jimmy was a clerk in a large chain grocery store until one day a former employee of the store returned and asked the manager for a job. Upon being told there was no vacancy, the former employee sneered "No jobs for honest men like me, but jobs for ex-convicts like him, eh?" pointing to Jimmie. Jimmie's secret was out. A short time later a policeman picked him up, dirty, and unkempt, for sleeping on a bench.

Both of these men eventually wound up in the same place. They were sent to jail on a vagrancy charge. Upon release they appealed to the John Howard Society for assistance.

An effort is being made to form a local council in Coleman, and in the New Year a public meeting will be called with Walter Lemman, executive secretary of Calgary, as speaker. The annual individual membership is only $1. Mr. George Butterick is chairman of the advisory council at Pincher Creek.

The Society and its magnificent humane work needs interested citizens and practical sympathy and help.

(This article is contributed by Padre Harry Moss in conjunction with the John Howard Society in Calgary. Individuals and groups interested should contact the Padre and state their willingness to assist form a local council in Coleman and Blairmore).

Sports Hi-Lites

No word has been received as to the fate of the ABC League for this year, although the Creston Intermediates have already hit the freeze. The Creston club dropped a 4-2 decision to the Trail Intermediates last week and had scheduled a game against Nelson.

Intermediate hockey in Kimberley is shaping up with Harry Brown and Tank Johnson forming a team. On the roster so far Dave McLay, former Dynamiter netminder, Tank Johnson, Joe Kershaw, Bim Barker, Red Sutherland and Johnny Young on defence; Red Mathews, Doug Mac-Donald, Andy Port, Dick Shannon, Flore Pagura, Chris Sorenson, Jr. and many others trying out. Mathews and MacDonald played last year in England and were recently cut from the Dynamiters.

Jack Kavanagh in The Cranbrook Courier states that he figures the ABC League is in for a bumper season. Below we reprint a few of his remarks:—Now that Bellevue has dropped out of the western junior circuit they should ice a strong club. Coleman has always had a powerhouse squad and will have their hands full when they lock horns with Kimberley.

—Talking to Grands' Coach Bill Fraser the other day regarding players for the team, Bill informed us that Roy Vejprava will line up in Coleman colors again this year. Fans, that remember Roy's play against the CPR Beavers last year welcome this news.

—Irwin Frew, former Coleman player, is a member of the Calgary Old Timers hockey team that so much has been written about. A former pro, Irwin played with the Calgary Canadians when they won the Memorial Cup in 1926.

—Creston Intermediates defeated a Nelson team 8-5. Creston is not represented in the ABC league this year.

East Coleman Will Be Mapped

Further signs of progress have come to light in the settlement of East Coleman.

Latest residences in the area will be shown on this map along with the owner's house number and name—the map to conform with the numbers that are being placed on the homes at the present time.

When completed, the maps will be placed in convenient spots in order that the public may use them in locating a certain person or house.

Hockey Delegation In Car Accident

Returning from a hockey meeting at Cranbrook a week ago Sunday night the Coleman delegation met with an accident. Eighteen miles from Cranbrook a deer struck W. Mozell's car.

It was necessary that the car be towed back to Cranbrook from Wardner by Mr. John Martin, of Wardner, and leave the damaged vehicle in a Cranbrook garage. The delegates returned by bus.

Two Injured In Cycle-Calf Crash

Two Lethbridge girls were seriously injured in an accident west of Lundbreck last week.

The girls, Christina Blondeau, 23, and Mary Blondeau, 21, were proceeding west on a motorcycle shortly after noon Sunday when they struck a calf on the road.

FABULOUS JACK ARTHUR

The story of showbusiness, from days over fifty years ago to the present, and covering the wacky days of Mississippi showboats, vaudeville, The Jazz Age, Burlesque and the name dance bands, is told in the CBC series, "Mr. Showbusiness" on Trans-Canada network every week. The programs are based on the personal experiences of that fabulous showman, Jack Arthur, who does the narration. With him is Howard Cable and his orchestra, and a host of top singers and actors. Arthur now produces the Canadian Exhibition's extravagant grandstand show each year, attended by over 20,000 persons at each performance; a terrific task which serves as a fitting climax to a great man's long career. Here he talks to dancer Janet Macrae, on the CNE set.
